Meet the Mozambique Green Party

The Mozambique Green Party (Partido Ecologista Movimento da Terra) reached out to the Global Greens community for solidarity following two devastating cyclones this year. Read an interview with Party Leader Mr. Joao Massango about the current political situation of Mozambique, the Green party's development and their vision for Global Greens leading up to our 2021 Congress.

READ MORE*She Will Run

Green Party Korea's incubation program for women candidates is off to a great start! She Will Run supports female minorities and those alienated from the existing politics by providing training in: political messaging, developing a campaign brand, speechmaking, debating and much much more. Candidates elected through "She Will Run" are eligible for campaign financing for the general election on 15 April 2020.

READ MORE*An Election Round-Up

Sometimes it's hard to keep track of everything so we took this opportunity to do a quick round-up of 2019 elections that Greens have participated in. Let us know what we've missed!

Also, we're setting up a team to track election results. If you'd like to be a part of it please email amy at amy@globalgreens.org with "Election Tracking" in the heading.

READ MORE*Making the Global Greens 2021 Congress Climate Smart

The 5th Global Greens congress will be jointly held with the Asia Pacific Greens Federation (APGF) and hosted by Green Party Korea in Seoul, July 2021! We want to have a climate-smart congress and enable participation without having to travel long distances.

We recently spoke with Green Party of Aotearoa New Zealand about their successful experience using online conferencing with delegates across the country to deliberate and decide on their government coalition agreement - no easy task! Read on and share your experiences and ideas for climate smart conferencing on our Facebook Congress Event Page.

From Uganda to Germany!

Powerful and inspiring, Dorothy Nalubega from the Ecological Party of Uganda travelled to Germany as a Global Greens Climate campaigner. So fantastic to see how relationships through the Global Green connect our movement across continents! Dorothy spoke at the German Greens North Rhine-Westphalia conference #ldk19nrw about the campaign for a Global Climate Damages Tax. She also joined the peaceful German protest #AlleDoerferbleiben to stop villages from being razed to the ground for coal mining.

Women in Politics (a webinar)

As a part of the Green Party Korea's incubation program for women candidates they held a terrific webinar with Christine Milne (Australian Greens) and Metiria Turei (New Zealand Greens) speaking about why women in politics is so important and how the Green Party brings a strong voice for Gender Equity.

Green European Journal (special edition)

The new special edition of the Green European Journal, 2049: Open Future, is out now and available in print and online.

Featuring essays, stories and interviews complemented by infographics, the edition seeks to capture life and society in 2049: from the evolution of the internet and reinvention of monetary systems, to ideas for tomorrow such as Doughnut Economics and Universal Basic Income, to developing a circular fashion industry, rethinking mobility challenges and reflecting on the prospects of rewilding, to reshaping our lives and habits in the face of the climate crisis.

2049: Open Future is now available on the Journal's website, where you can read the edition in its entirety or download the beautiful illustrated PDF.
